Dear [Hiring Manager Name / Hiring Team],

I'm writing to apply for the [Position Title] role at [Company Name]. Over the past seven years, I've built my career on the front line of customer relationships — most recently handling 30+ customer interactions daily across phone, email, and in-person channels, and introducing a complaint follow-up system that addressed root causes rather than just symptoms, reducing repeat complaints.

From 2022 to 2025, I ran an independent operations practice, providing embedded administrative and client-facing support to three organizations simultaneously — a human capital consultancy, an IT firm, and an independent logistics operation. Managing three accounts in parallel required the same discipline a single employer would expect, just distributed across more relationships: I built the systems, caught problems in my own reporting (one example: flagging an overpriced vendor, which led to a switch and a cost reduction of over 15%), and was retained by all three clients for the full engagement. I'm now looking to bring that same client-first discipline to one team, full-time.

Since that engagement wound down, I've kept building. I'm completing a HubSpot CRM certification, taking coursework through Coursera, the MTN Skills Program, and Udemy, and shipping several of my own tools — including an automated job-search aggregator built with GitHub Actions and OAuth integrations, live at handyofmen.github.io/job-radar. I'm an ALX Africa Certified Virtual Assistant, comfortable across Microsoft Office, Google Workspace, and HubSpot CRM, with a track record clients and colleagues can speak to directly.

I'd welcome the chance to talk about how I could support [Company Name]'s customers. Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Silas Andy Aniekan
